A Four-Wheel Assortment

Automobiles have undergone drastic changes in the past ten years. The years slipped by, and time drifted into the present, the time we used to look at as the future. Things changed, we grew, and the cars we wanted grew more numerous and costly. More emphasis was being placed on comfort and appearance rather than speed. The Crager mags and wide ovals have left the scene and for the late seventies the names Trans Am and "Z-28," were heard and spoken from nearly every mouth, on and off campus. We have switched from great heights to low and sleek.

If a person walked through the P.B.H.S. student parking lot, one might mistakenly think that the cars there looked more like they should belong to the teachers and not the students.

Times have changed and the students seem not to be working to get a car, but working to keep the car that gets them to work.

1. A van in the parking lot seems to attract students. 2. Jim Selbach and Charlie Lorenz are enthused over Charlie's car. 3. John Butler and Darrell Holmes like this car the best. 4. Firebirds are powerful and popular at Pompano.

The World of Fashion, an Everchanging Scene.

Since 1970 fashion has been a world everchanging. Styles worn by both girls and guys have changed. Girls have gone from wearing short dresses and skirts to ones below the knee; from long, straight hair to short, crimped, or curly hair; from flat shoes to wedgies and spike heels.

Guys are now dressing more neatly. They seem to be more careful about their appearance. They have gone from wearing baggy jeans to tight dress pants; from long, stringy hair to shorter and neater styles.

Some say these changes have been for the better, some for the worse. Only time will tell.

Reflections in Political Change

The 70's have been an era of many different changes in America; in the past decade there have been unexpected and unusual happenings. Shocking Watergate occurred; a President was forced to resign; the American dollar lost value; and inflation hit some of its highest points. Our country celebrated its 200th birthday; changes took place in the roles of women; changes in the roles of minorities occurred in which they held top jobs and were chosen to fill more political posts. Have you read your Student Handbook lately?

In 1977 the School Board put out a little book called the Student Conduct and Discipline Code Book. It stated exactly what students could and could not do. Dress codes were set and strictly enforced, along with attendance procedures. Different plans were made up for 1st, 2nd, and 3rd offenses. Responsibilities were clearly defined and placed upon the parents, teachers, and students alike.

1. Slaps were a "no-no" on campus. 2. Various forms of discipline. 3. Some tops were not allowed on campus, as Karen Goss found out. 4. Even the "Head Bean" sometimes did not conform to dress code. 5. Being in the parking lot before school sometimes caused students to be late. 6. Karen Kolen despises new dress code.

Senioritis Is . . .

The clock slowly ticks off the seconds, while the years drift away into space. We pass from one decade into the beginning of another. Seniors graduate, becoming alumni; the changes of ranks occur every year.

The flashbacks of the years we've spent will bring back memories of less complicated times, times of dreams, hopes, and wishes that we hoped for and wanted to come true.

The scenes we see so clearly in our minds show rebellion, pride, honor, and the unwelcome feeling of defeat (whether it be at a football game or on that forever haunting Algebra test). We see the painted murals classroom walls or election posters anywhere that we might look.

THE FEMALE LEADERS OF TOMORROW

Five outstanding young ladies were chosen to participate in Girls State — a program which develops leadership and character. First, as many girls as were interested, filled out applications for Girls State, they were sent to the American Legion. In turn, the American Legion voted, and five were chosen to give speeches to them on why they would like to go to Girls State; When the Legion voted, they chose Lorretta Burden and Tracy Ball; Carol Balistreri, Janice Crowe, and Kim Petty were chosen as alternates.

Later they had an orientation program and then took a bus to Florida State University.

During this week the girls met Governor Rubin Askew and a few of his cabinet. They also ran for "mock" governmental offices and met in a "session" in the House of Representatives and the Senate buildings.

1. Tracy Ball tries hard to keep up her grades. 2. Carol Balistreri has much on her mind. 3. Lorretta Burden finishes up her English composition. 4. Tracy Ball, Third runner-up; Carol Balistreri, alternate; Kim Petty, alternate; and Lorretta Burden, First runner-up.

Oh, when a Girl Stater says, hello
You'll say, now there's a girl I'd like to know.
She's got the spirit, pep, and loyalty —
And she is proud to be a girls state nominee.
And when she graduates she'll never forget
All the fun she's had and friends
she met.
And deep within her heart she'll always be
A Girls Stater you'll see.

These students filled out applications concerning their grades, athletics, and club activities. These were given to the American Legion, Post 142, by junior counselor, Joel Wittstien.

Twenty-six applicants from four schools were interviewed individually at the American Legion Post. These applicants were notified by the American Legion of their selection.

Boys' State was held on the FSU Campus in Tallahassee, Florida, for one full week.

Who's Who of Pompano High

Pompano's Who's Who proved to be an accumulation of the most active people at Pompano High. These members, some presidents of clubs, some active sports people, and some active in any type of school event were present, all of whom have an excellent academic standard.

The 1978-79 Who's Who of Pompano High will be remembered as one of the most outstanding groups of that academic year.

1978-79 Tornado Homecoming Pep Assembly

Homecoming was a very busy and spirited time of the 1978-79 school year. One of the many activities was the pep assembly held after the bonfire. Many students turned out and participated to the fullest. The cheerleaders led the students in skits which ended in a laugh for everyone, by making the students sit on wet sponges. The pep assembly was an annual event held at night. It was the only pep assembly held in the 78-79 Year.

Freak Out

During Homecoming week at Pompano Beach High School, the students had many exciting events in which to participate. One of the most enjoyable was "Crazy Day." On this day the students and faculty dressed up to be just that, "crazy". They were then to be judged in a contest for the craziest costume. The winners of the costume contest were Jim Ogden and Cindy Cruz. Tradewinds received honorable mention for having painted their faces up like the popular rock group "Kiss". The students' participation and enthusiasm helped the day to be a "wild and crazy" one.

"Pompano On Parade"

At the closing of the Homecoming week of Pompano Beach High School, all the creativity among the students was shown in their very successful parade. Traditionally beginning at Kester Park, the parade got off to a great start. During their tour of Pompano, spectators gathered along Tornado Trail to view the various floats that were designed by the hard working club members. Along with the floats were the clubs' sweethearts and escorts. Following in Corvettes were the King and Queen Finalists. Meanwhile, back at Kester Park the judges were having a tough time deciding the winners. Mr. Alderman and Mrs. Prescott together came up with the winners, being: First place — Future Farmers of America; Second place — Tradewinds; Tying for Third place were Yearbook and Key Club.

Bonfire Burns Bright in '78

It took weeks to build it, seconds to light,
But when it was lit, it was a beautiful sight.
They worked nights and they worked days,
Just to see the huge thing blaze.
Now Pompano people were proud to see,
Their fire burning as bright as can be.
As the sparks and the ashes flew up in the air,
The people were happy they were there.
As the cheerleaders cheered around the fire,
The flames leaped and grew higher and higher.
Pompano people will have many more great years,
With their ups and their downs and their smiles and their tears.
But what the people in 78 will remember the most,
Is the big bonfire and the Colonels at roast.

Tornadoes Tried to Pop the Colonels

The Golden Tornado Homecoming game was rather disappointing, with the Tornadoes coming up on the short end of a very close game. With the large Homecoming crowd showing a lot of enthusiasm and excitement, the Tornadoes fought a hard "head-to-head" battle with the colonels.

The game was mainly a defensive struggle, with the Tornadoes' defense providing some great hitting and all-around hustle. However, the Tornado offense did not fare too well against a strong Plantation defense, and with a couple of breaks, the Colonels were able to pull off a close victory.

However, with all the festivities and excitement going on around campus in this week, at the climax the Tornadoes played some hard-hitting football, and with pride fought to the finish.

Beauty Leads the Way

A traditional festivity of Homecoming week is the election of class attendants. Each class votes on the one girl which they think best represents their class. Of the many girls that run only one is chosen. The 1978-79 class attendants and escorts were as follows: Senior attendant, Leslie Cole and her escort Cliff Nord; Junior attendant Erin Perry and her escort Mark Schwarb; Sophomore attendant Andrea Savarese and her escort Vinnie Montella; Freshmen attendant Maureen O'Neil and her escort John Shelley.

Each year the football team votes on two girls to represent the team as football sweethearts. The girls are elected for their personality along with appearance. This year's sweethearts were Vicky McIntosh and Nancy Zelinske. Nancy and Vicky represented the team in the parade and at the Homecoming game.

"To Be or Not To Be"

November 10 was a very exciting night for the candidates of King and Queen. The Queen candidates were dressed beautifully in their long gowns, and the King candidates were very handsome in their tuxedoes.

The candidates were paired off alphabetically as follows: Carol Balistreri and Mike Miller; Melanie Erickson and Tony Reese; Kendra Kerr and Mark Rossi; Julie Kisela and Rick Sorrentino, and last but not least Linda Moore and Paul Zelinske. The only bit of sadness was that they all knew only one King and Queen would be chosen. However, they all had much happiness in their hearts for the winning King and Queen.

Royalty is Chosen

The Yearbook staff of 1978-79 gave the Homecoming Queen and first King the opportunity to express their thanks to the student body and all those that were involved with the Homecoming activities. The following was their personal expression of their feelings on that very special night:

Homecoming Queen: "Wow! I couldn't believe it! In my past years at Pompano High I've seen other girls win Homecoming queen and I've always wondered how they must have felt. Well, I was overwhelmed. It's so hard to describe my feelings. But it was so neat.

As I look back I've realized that something that I have respected, dreamed about — but never really thought about possessing — had become mine.

I wish to thank you all for allowing me the honor of representing our school in our Homecoming of 1978. You've made me feel very, very special."

"It was definitely an honor to be chosen Homecoming King here at Pompano High. First of all it was an honor to be Pompano's first Homecoming King in its history. I'm glad I've had the chance to experience this honor with my friends who were very close to me. Words cannot explain what my feelings were at the time. Thank you for being a friend at that time to me, Cliff Nord and especially Leslie Cole. They really made the night, but most of all, thank you Pompano High student-body for this experience. I'll never forget my days at P.B.H.S.

The Homecoming Dance was one of the best ever. With Junior class as the sponsors and with the help of the senate, the dance was one to remember. PEOPLE

SENIORS SHINE IN '79

It was said that the graduating class was undoubtedly one of the most unified classes ever enrolled in Pompano Beach Senior High. Everyone worked together in his/her spare time to make the school and community a better place.

The traditional Homecoming dance was always held immediately after the football game, but this left hardly any time at all for one to "dance the night away." So the class of "79" decided that if the dance was held the following night, there would be more time for enjoyment and less chaos. Well, that's what they did and since then that has been a new tradition at Pompano High. The class of "79" was responsible for the start of many more traditions, including Christmas Roses, that will long be remembered and appreciated. They also raised money by selling flowers, candy, spirit rooters, and car washes to make the class of "79" one of the richest ever.

To think four years ago graduation seemed like light years away to the graduating class of "79". Time flew by so fast there was no time to do all that was wanted. Then realizations that they were no longer children and faced many decisions that would effect their futures, leaving behind many memories that will bring a smile to their face, or tears in the years to come. High school was a time to gain experience and give them an understanding of love, friendship, and life.

As I think about it,
It's hard to believe;
We're not children anymore,
Our eyes can now perceive.

We've all grown up together,
Gone through good times and bad;
Our school days are almost finished;
But we treasure times we've had.

We'll each go into the world,
And turn our separate ways;
But implanted in our memories,
Will be our old school days.

We've helped the other up,
When one would stumble and fall;
We've cried, laughed and fought,
And been friends through it all.

So when our night comes,
And the lights are on us;
The graduating class of '79
Leaves Pompano High our devotion and trust.

"Hail to Thee", you've given memorie
Within your walls ring love and fun;
And we'll shout it through the years,
'79 is number one!!!!!

Future Leaders of 1980

The class of "80" was filled with excitement and anticipation throughout the year, as they knew that they were just one step away from being "seniors".

With capable leaders and a spirited class, the juniors were very successful with all their projects.

At the beginning of the year, they sold candy to get the year rolling. Then at Homecoming, juniors sold boutonnieres and put on the Homecoming Dance, which would always be remembered. Other projects included a poinsetta plant sale, car washes, and a successful magazine drive.

Juniors also led with school spirit and pride, as they showed P.B.H.S. that the class of "80" was number one!

How do you feel about the new attendance code? I feel if people don't want to work, forcing them to come to school will not make them work any harder and make them feel that going is a chore and not a benefit.

Two Down; Two To Go

The class of '81 got off to a super start. With the help of numerous car washes and candy sales, the treasury rose to an outstanding amount.

The officers' devotion to the sophomore class helped the enthusiasm grow among the students and made the year an enjoyable one.

With the help of many, the sophomore class had a successful flower sale followed by a money making Sadie Hawkins dance.

All in all the year was a great success.

Fired Up Freshmen

Pompano Beach High School had reason to take pride in the class of 1982. Their enthusiasm helped them raise funds and also with the help of a car wash and a candy sale, their treasury reached a worthy amount.

Although there were no freshmen sports that the class of 1982 could participate in, they joined clubs and school activities. The president, Mark Barreio, did an outstanding job along with the help of vice-president Scott Brunner, secretary, Patricia McFadden and treasurer, Becky Jones.

The freshmen class started their years at Pompano Beach High School at an arousing pace.

Though sports and social activities were very important in building students' character, the real purpose of school was the academic department. The departments of PBHS proved to be highly successful in the school year of 78-79, and was shown by the results percentage-wise of students who passed the literacy test compared to 1978.

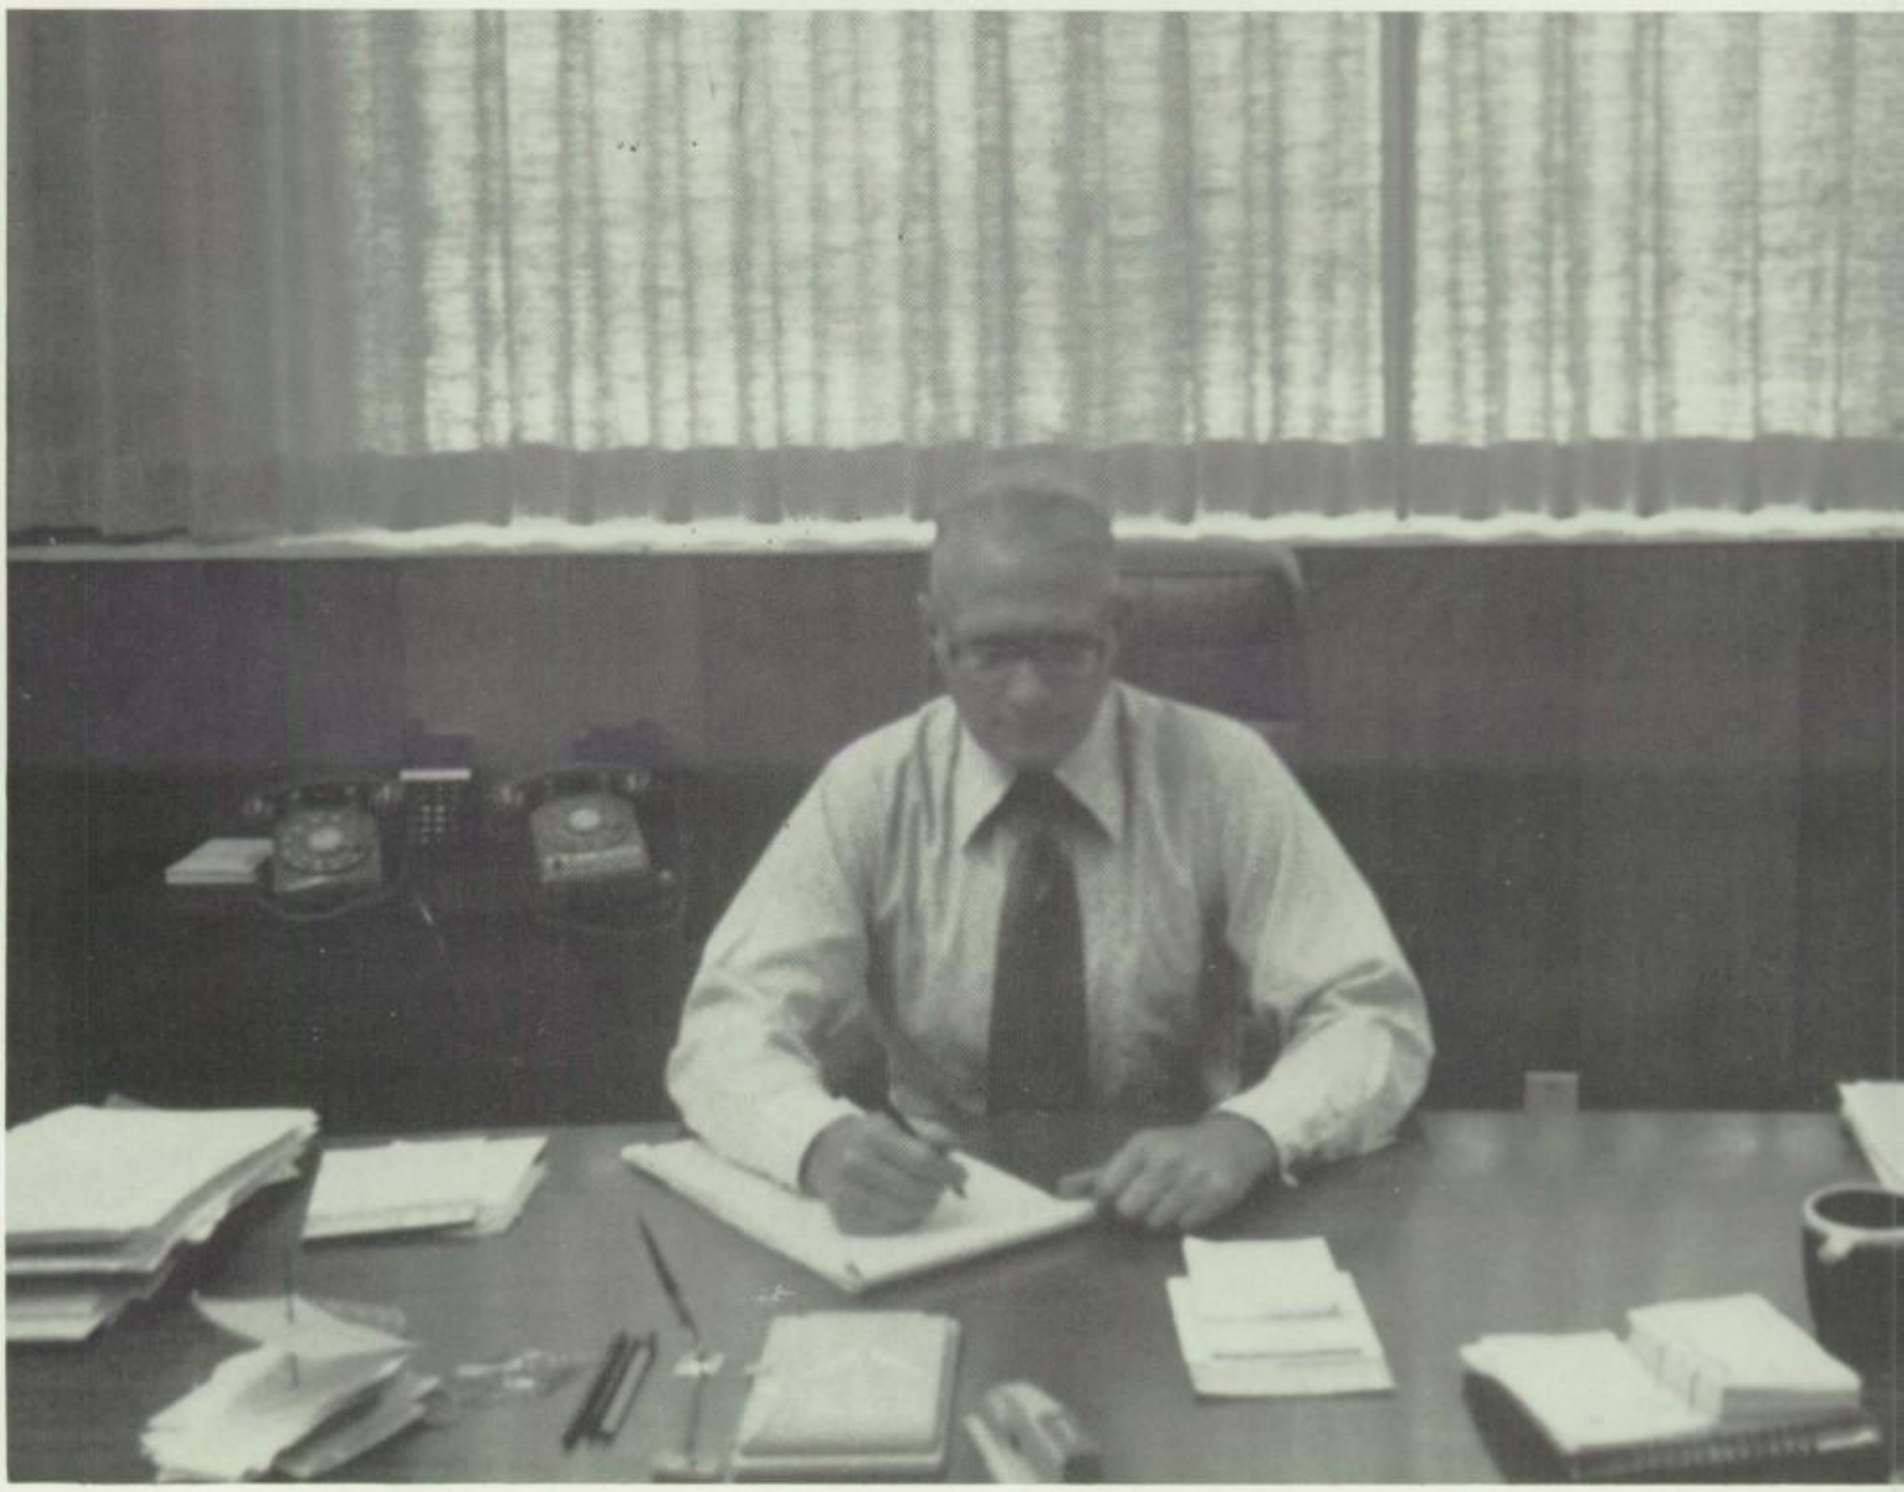
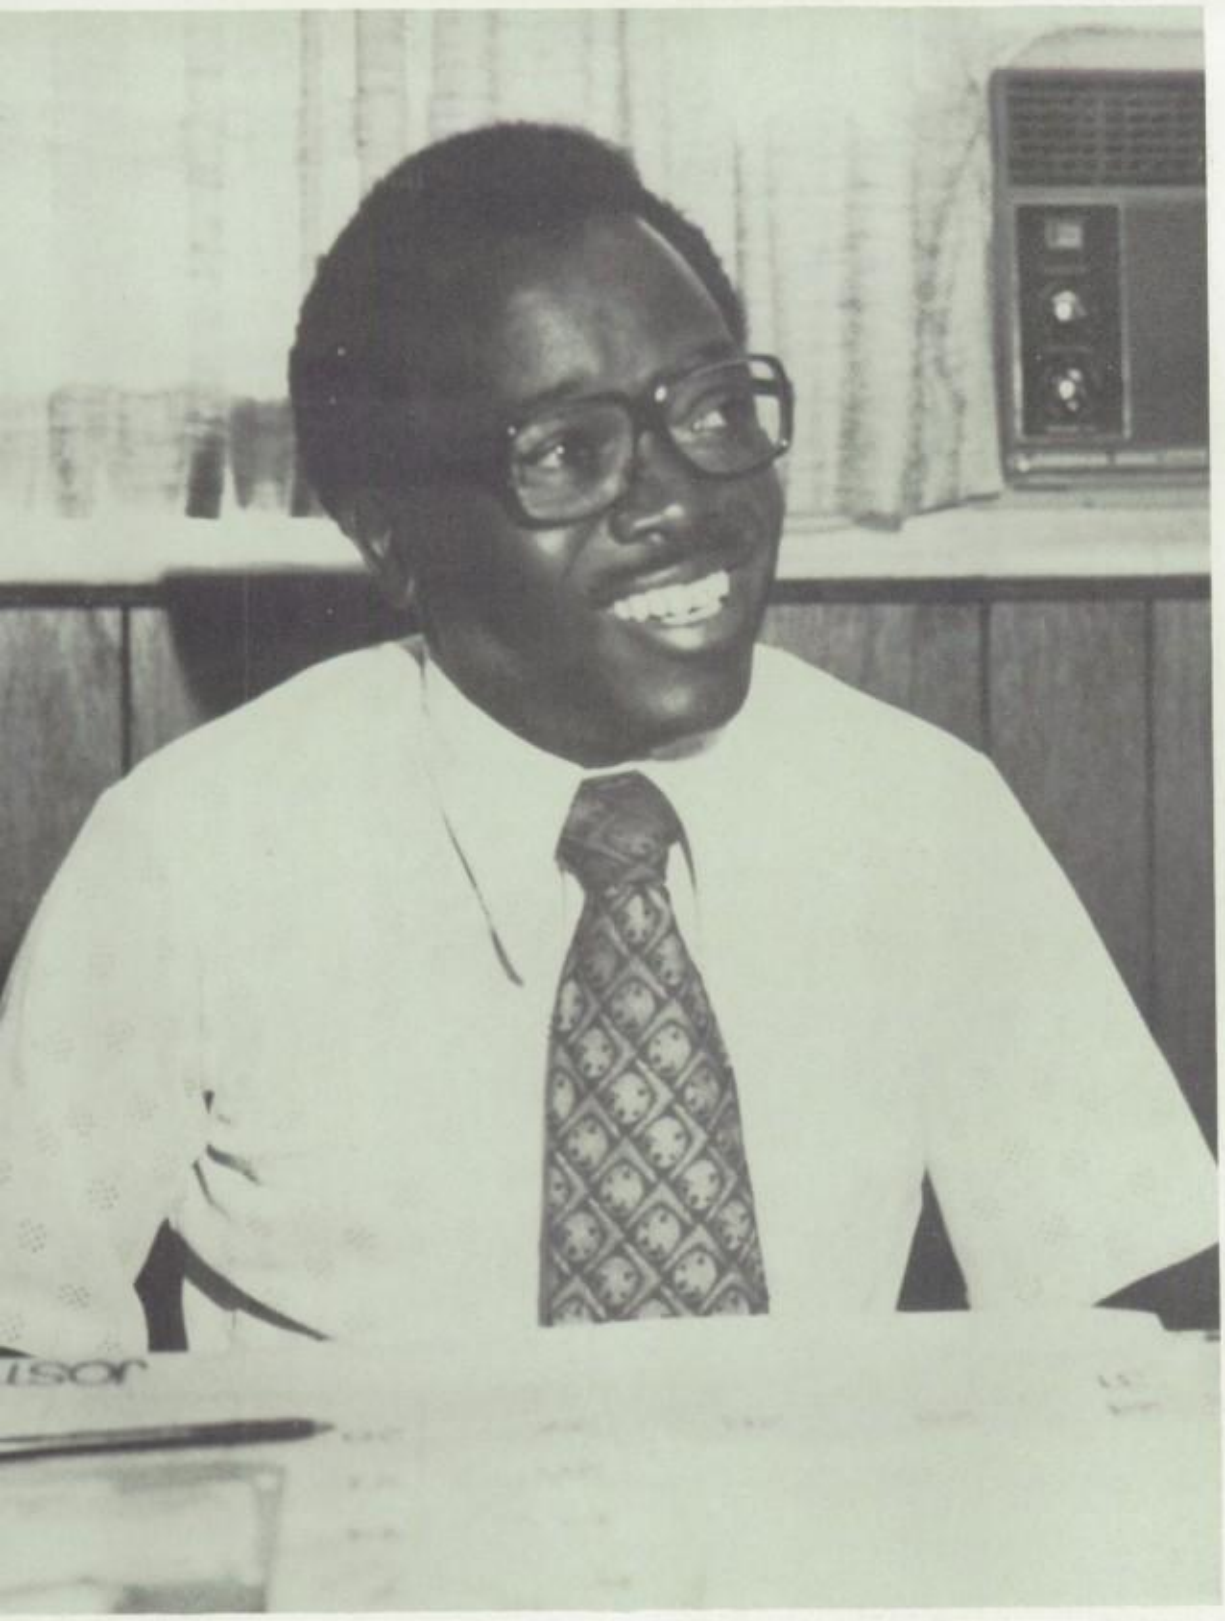
CURRICULUM

Our Fearless Leaders

Credit must be given to Dr. Myers and his staff of administrators. Their jobs were not easy ones, when you consider the many aspects of supervision. Dr. Myers, for example, had to advise teachers, help individual students, and create rapport with the surrounding area. Our assistant principals, Mr. Jones and Mr. Maltby, helped organize student activities such as assemblies, clubs, fund raising projects, graduation exercises, and much, much more. The student schedules were also a major concern of theirs, along with report cards and grades. Disturbances, both disciplinary and personal were the concern of Pompano Beach High School's two deans, Mrs. Huber and Mr. Smith. Together these people made our administration an efficiently working team. Mrs. Huber was our newest member in the office. She took care of any problems the girls had. Mr. Jones worked with discipline.





The Problem Solvers

Pompano High's guidance department helped students with many problems, some of which have affected our future lives. Decisions about jobs and colleges were difficult ones, and our counselors were there to help. Answers to most problems could be found at our guidance counselor's office.

The organizing of schedules was also a problem that the department had to face. Their job was not the easiest, especially at the beginning of the year when three quarters of our students wanted their schedules changed in the first two weeks. The dedicated members of this department did a great deal to help us get through the year.

Helping the seniors was Mr. Joel Wittstein; the juniors went to see Mr. Berquist; Mrs. Rhone was the guiding hand behind the sophomores; and Mr. Wells led the freshmen through their first year at Pompano.

1. Miss Rhone enjoying her work. 2. Mrs. Von Ammon, having a discussion over the phone. 3. Mr. Wittstein finds time to smile for the camera. 4. Mr. Berquist, trying hard to help the students. 5. Mrs. Halstead gives her time to help guidance. 6. Mr. Wells helps student with schedule problems.

Behind Every Man . . .

The secretarial staff kept the school functioning smoothly. They kept countless files on students and other areas. Their phones rang constantly, many times from parents who were reporting absentees. Bulletins were read and ditto sheets were run off by the ladies in the front offices. Where would the administration be without them?

Some New Additions

Students who needed an abundance of information found it in our library. Books of all kinds could be found. Some helped us with our assignments, and others with our special interests.

All the books, magazines, newspapers and films were kept in order by our staff of librarians. They filed books in the card catalogue, kept them up to date, and assisted students in finding what they needed. They also, of course, made sure that things were done quietly.

Mrs. Shirley Myers

It's Composition Time!

English classes taught us the mechanics of our language and appreciation for great literature. We learned grammar, spelling, composition, and to speak well. These are fundamentals with which we need to communicate properly. Under the leadership of department head, Tex Alderman, our English staff was able to offer us a variety of courses, including: science fiction, creative writing, contemporary literature, speech, and drama. These courses not only helped us develop language skills but to communicate our emotions.

Experimentation Begins Here

With the experience and knowledge which the teacher passed on to the students, the science department had a great year. With the guidance from department head, Carl Martin, students were taught the theories of science through experiments and observation.

The department offered many different classes, such as biology, general science, chemistry, marine ecology, and human physiology. For other students there were advanced courses offered in earth science, biology, chemistry, and physics.

Lets Get Into Shape

Physical education was a course that was required for graduation. Each student, girl or boy, was required to take two years of it. P.E. was co-ed for all grades in such sports as: volleyball, softball, and tennis.

P.E. was always a very exciting break in the day. It offered PBHS students a chance to learn various skills in sports. This course not only developed our athletic ability, but also gave us a sense of sportsmanship.

Drivers Ed Is A Must

They learned to do angle parking and parallel parking. They also learned to do three point turns, crossbacking, small figure eight forwards and backwards, turn-a-bounce. They learned how to change tires and the different parts of the engine. They had to pass both the class work and the driving skills test to help them to become skillful students of Pompano Beach High.

Skills Are Achieved In Industrial Arts

Industrial arts was designed for the students who liked to work with their hands. They had classes such as metal shop, printing, photography, artistic abilities, and wood shop. Students made very interesting things in the industrial arts department. It was also a very practical department, because it allowed students to work in their prospective vocations.

Art Shapes Things Up

Pompano's craft classes worked on advanced macrame and copper enameling, a new project. The ceramic classes explored possibilities and produced a small sculpture of ceramic tiles. They also worked in pottery and designed human faces. The classes for painting worked hard for advancement. Etheridge Lovett created several murals around school. He also painted a mural on the main wall of our gym, showing the outstanding athletic achievements of Pompano Beach High School students; a plaque honoring these aspiring athletes was placed there also.

Do, Re, Me Fa, So, La Te, Do

The Pompano Beach High School music department again displayed an abundance of talent. For another year the three sections of the department: band, chorus, and orchestra, delighted music lovers within the school and surrounding community.

The marching band was divided into three divisions: symphonic, concert, and stage. Among the band's many activities was a trip to St. Petersburg. Under the leadership of Mr. Silkebakken, the band received superior ratings at the district contest.

Under the direction of Mrs. Deborah Wittstein, the Tradewinds delighted audiences and critics once again. The Choral department also boasted three other divisions: beginning chorus, ladies chorus, and Changing Tides. These groups brought fine music to the appreciative student body of Pompano Beach High School.

1. Band students practicing enthusiastically. 2. Changing Tides chorus gives an outstanding performance. 3. Sue Pardue, hard at work.

Concotions Prove to be Delicious

The Home Economics department had a very successful year with Mrs. Tavrock catering to the needs of her classes. A Christmas bake sale was held for teachers to buy goodies for themselves. Child Care was also incorporated into the Home Economics department. This taught the students the necessary fundamentals of raising a child.

1. Student prepares a cake for baking. 2. Washing the dishes is a must after Home Ec.

Learning New Languages Can be Fun

The foreign language department taught their students everything there was to know about foreign countries and their customs, culture, and of course their native language. Spanish, German, French and Latin were offered to give students a choice. Students were also given a chance to sample foods from different countries, as well as learn foreign literature. The foreign language department helped us to understand the mechanics of our own language better and stirred our interest in other cultures.

Down on the Farm

Life down on the farm was fun and at the same time educational. The students combined several hours of class time and even more hours of actual outside activities. The students were busy all year long with the various farm duties being spread out evenly among themselves. There were such things to do as feeding, cleaning stables and pens, plowing the field, and planting different crops. This lifestyle proved to be very educational and was a switch from city life.

1. Yearbook members John and Rubin help around the farm with Lee Eugley and Mrs. Nattie Manalo. 2. Lee Eugley and friend. 3. Out on the farm they still use the old plowing method.

Secretaries, Bookkeepers, and Lawyers

Business Education was very useful to the person who was going into bookkeeping, typing, and shorthand for any kind of business field.

The classes were to get students prepared for the employment world, during school or after graduation. With the teacher's help and the class cooperation they managed to get a lot done. In bookkeeping, their minds were spinning, in typing the keyboards were clicking, and in shorthand, the hands were going like mad to achieve their goal, to get a good grade in the class and to improve their job opportunities.

Special People for Special Needs

The Exceptional Education Department provided programs and services to any student whose needs could not be met within the regular classroom. Each student's needs and abilities were individually assessed and an educational plan was developed for that student. These plans provided for individual differences ranging from Intellectually gifted to educably mentally handicapped.

Varsity Puts Best Foot Forward

The Golden Tornadoes of 1978 were the most inexperienced of all going into this season. There were a lot of potentially good players that could produce a good season, such as: offensive linemen John Wheeler, Mark Hurm, Mike Long, Brad Berger, and Byron Cooper — and offensive backs: Charlie Johnson, Willie King, David Frost, and many others.

Defensively, we had returning linebackers like: Co-Captains, Scott Sherman and Donnie Anderson; linemen such as: Byron Cooper, Robert Salay; and backs: Neil Vonstein, John Butler; and Vincent Edwards.

The season started against Ely High on Sept. 8, 1978 at home. We lost the game 32-7. We learned that inexperience was a factor that we would have to overcome. We played better against Ft. Lauderdale High but lost 6-2. The Tornadoes continued to improve but did not win a game until the 8th game against Dillard, by a score of 14-12.

These Tornadoes will always be remembered because of their losing record. However, they will be remembered more by their Coaching Staff and teammates as being a committed group of athletes. They always played hard, with a lot of pride and enthusiasm; and even when things were bad, they never lost their pride and confidence. This group did not receive as many awards as other Tornado teams have, but they finished with great pride and dignity, and never lost sight of their goals to finish strong.

Cheerleaders One Time!

The Cheerleaders of Pompano High started getting into school activities during August when they went to the University of Florida in Gainesville. For four days discipline was very strict for the girls on the squad.

Cheerleading really began last spring when the graduating cheerleaders taught them cheers, chants, and jumps. The squad learned how to cheer for all of Pompano's sporting events.

There were only five girls that returned from the previous squad: Melanie Ericksen, Julie Kisela, Julie Giordiano, Kendra Kerr, and Linda Moore. Returning from the previous J.V. squad were Diane Barlow, Donna Langfeld, Erin Perry, and Nancy Zelinski. Veronica Davis, a senior cheered her freshman, and sophomore years, and completed her years at Pompano by cheering her senior year. Also cheering for the Golden Tornadoes were Linda Jones and Colleen Spence.

The 1978-79 Varsity Cheerleading squad proved to be one of the finest in the history of Pompano Beach High.

Baby Tornadoes Show Their Stuff

With the competent coaching of new head coaches, Ira Kaminsky, and Albert Hill; the junior varsity football team learned basics, the lessons of determination, discipline and experience. Their 3-5 record didn't show the hard work, many hours after school and on weekends, that they put in before each game.

The Baby Tornadoes showed a strong offense with tough running, from individual backs. Coach Kaminsky said this was a learning experience for him because he has always coached on a higher level. They tried to emphasize to their players love for the game and belief that in two years when these players reach varsity, the school would once again be known for their great football team.

J.V.'s Got That Spirit

The J.V. cheerleaders were very spirited and helped the team on to victories. With the help of Miss Gail Cooley, they did an outstanding job in arousing the enthusiasm of the fans. The captain's responsibilities were spread out among the girls to help each understand the responsibility the girls were undertaking while head of the squad. They attended a cheerleading camp in Jacksonville to improve their skills as cheerleaders. The girls learned a lot about not only cheerleading, but also self-discipline and attitude toward other people. The girls finished this year with the hope that next year they would be accepted for Varsity.

Over the Hills, Through the Woods

The 1978 cross-country team finished their best season in four years under the coaching of Gary Boyer. The team was a very close team, helping each other in every race to overcome the physical and mental barriers of a grueling 3-mile race. This is why the team finished with a 6-5 record.

Leading the team to its victories were seniors: Tom Gotshall, Chuck Murillo, Bill Dykstra, and Steve Fetheroff; juniors: Dean Conkle, Ken McGuire, Rick Newmark, John Fiorini, Steve Berman and Steve Boylan. Sophomores: Troy Lore, and Mike Davis; and freshmen: Mark Elakman, Dave McMahon, and Scott Bowen.

The average practice for the team was anywhere from 3 to 15 miles with many of the varsity runners doing extra miles in the mornings and the evenings.

Senior, Tom Gotschall, won most of the duel meet races. He set records for the school of 15:13 and received the MVP trophy. Senior, Chuck Murillo, received the three year varsity letterman award, and junior, Dean Conkle, received the Coaches' Award.

Bump! Set! Spike!

The Golden Tornadoes girls' volleyball team was one of the best teams that the Tornadoes ever had. The Tornadoes combined discipline and all around "togetherness" to come up with a winning season. The team took the court with a team of five seniors, five juniors, and two sophomores. After starting off with six straight wins, the girls ran into a few problems, but got things together after a couple of games to finish the season strong. The team's coach, Miss Terry Lambert, believed that the team's strength was their overall ability to hustle and that their main weakness was mental letdowns. However, all-in-all, the girls had a great year, produced a 9-4 record in the Northern Conference standings, and entered the District Tournament ranked third in the county. Three girls on the team, Judy Krobatch, Rainee Porshe, Sandy Halko, were given honorable mentions for the All-County Team.

J.V. Bumps Their Opponents!

The girls Junior Varsity Volleyball Team had a good season, posting a 5 win-loss record. Most of the girls started out this year having never played power volleyball before, but improved greatly through the season. The team's strongest playing came in the Dillard match, with the girls winning two out of the three hard-fought games, after going into extra points. Most valuable player for the team was Junior, Debbie McHugh, just one of the many girls ready to take the Seniors' places on the varsity squad next year.

Tornadoes Splash Ahead!

The boys and girls swimming team had one of their best and most exciting seasons. Much time and effort was put in after school, working on rhythm and timing.

Practice consisted of swimming laps and trying to cut down times. In swim-a-thons the team usually swam two hundred or more laps.

Some of the team's outstanding swimmers were: Nick Faberoski, swimming the breast stroke; James Ogden, free style; Art Yinger, back stroke; and Denny Smith, free style.

Throughout the season the team had much confidence that they would have a winning season. The team was lead on by their new coach, Kurt Cowan.

Varsity Shoots for a Perfect Season

With a new head coach, Dave Toney, the Golden Tornado Varsity Basketball Team underwent a lot of major changes. The team was smaller than most of the Pompano teams. Because of the lack of height, the team had to be much faster and have a better defense than before. With a legend to uphold, this team stormed into the 78-79 basketball season with such enthusiasm and excitement that they kept the gym filled with fans. From the first game they showed the fans that they knew how to win, and they were bound to meet their goal, to win 20 games. The attitude of the team was great and everybody on the team got to be captain at one time or another during the season. Coach Toney's primary emphasis was on the execution of fundamentals quickly and a premium on team play, to which the squad responded well.

The J.V. team was short in size, but tall in spirit. They worked hard, were dedicated, and had a strong desire to learn the fundamentals of basketball. Varsity Swooshes Their Way Through the Season

Pompano Tornadoes girls' basketball team, after 5 years of existance, displayed many signs of progress. With 9 returning lettermen and a new first year coach, Brian Rowland, the team worked hard; and, although maintaining consistent play was a problem, the girls boasted height, experience, and fine shooting. By the end of the season the girls combined their efforts and were playing a game of basketball that flabbergasted their opponents.

The girls J.V. basketball team was a hard-working group. The girls had only nine players and most of them didn't have much experience in an official game. Kick For A Goal

The 1978-79 soccer team put in many hard hours of practice to give the new sport of Pompano Beach High School a tradition to be followed. The players had to endure long hours of practice, tiring drills, "hard coaches", and a grueling two mile run. The team really pulled together and kept in mind the rewards of making a few sacrifices — rewards such as: state championships, all-county honors, and even scholarships. This team was definitely a team of self-pride and determination, and with the help of coaches Joel Wittstein and Sean Murphy, the team accomplished what it had hoped for.

The golf team had a good year with many of the returning players from the previous year. The team had a fund raising event with the permission of the country club, to use the par three to see who could get the ball on the green and in the hole first.

The boys' team, which was led by Bruce Halstead, Bob Mac Millan, Troy Atwood, Jay Halstead, Greg Hunsburger, and Vito Secunda, participated in a sixteen team tournament held in Plantation.

The girls' team, which was led by Michele Secunda and Lori Diebel, planned to lead the team to another District Championship.

. . . And They're Off!!

The girls' track has undergone another year of hard work. Under the coaching of Joel Wittstein, the girls have succeeded in their goals. Teri Leannis, who held the high school record in cross-country, turned to long jumping along with Djina Fennel, who was a very good jumper. There were also other girls like Linda Heddle and Laurie Cyr who tried to run their best.

Coach Wittstein took the girls all around South Florida to compete in different track meets. He was a special person who knew how to communicate with his team and also train his team. With a handful of girls, Coach Wittstein has done a good job in coaching. The girls have run anywhere from a half-miler to two miles and were hard workers and very dedicated.

The girls' track had accomplished a lot of things, and one important thing was faith.

Girls Swing Into Action

The girls' 78-79 tennis team was a young and inexperienced team. The first months of practice were geared towards building their endurance and improving their coordination through a variety of drills.

The squad took to the courts in early January to develop their individual games. As its season rolled along, junior, Kim McDowell earned the number one singles position under the strong competition from sophomore, Kathy Warner and freshman, Lisa McHose. As the season came to a close, each girl could reflect on a successful and fulfilling season, as they had improved their skills and represented Pompano Beach High with pride and dignity.

Tornadoes Grand Slam To Victory!

Varsity baseball players proved themselves worthy of another successful season. Led by Coach Fettrow, the team worked hard to achieve its goal of winning. The team improved themselves through long hours of practice each day after school. An effort was made by each player to show his determination to be a winning team.

Their quickness and agility on the field throughout the season helped develop the necessary skills to bring the team to victory.

Seniors on the team were: Joe Bardill, Barry Bradford, Charlie Lorenz, Tim Lyon, Mike Page, Bob Salay, Joel Stradtner, Buddy Vincent, Neal VonStein, and Steve Wetherell. With these members and the others, varsity baseball proved to be a grand slam success.

Beanpickers Work Hard For You

The 1978-79 "Beanpickers", the yearbook staff, began to bring into shape many thoughts and ideas through the aid of conventions and workshops such as Gainesville, Disney World, New York City, and work at our own P.B.H.S.

Learning for the new staff began even before the end of the 1977-78 school year. The training in page design, art work and photography took place all summer long.

Editors Sharon Parker and Cathy Kriegel helped guide the book through another successful publication. Sharon and Cathy, along with photo editor, Susan Ritsema and sponsor, Miss Reid, attended the Columbia Scholastic Press Association Yearbook Workshop. Many of the workshops helped to further the understanding of yearbook productions.

Over all, the staff proved to be successful in overcoming the odds in producing a "Class A" yearbook.

Hot Off the Press

One of the greatest things P.B.H.S. could take pride in was our school newspaper, the Oracle. The famed journal got off to a late start, because it lacked an advisor, but Mrs. Arico took the job and the staff went quickly to work on their first issue.

All staff members got valuable experience in making layouts, writing copy, and selling ads. When the product came from the printers, it was the staffers themselves who sold the paper.

Editors: Kristi Bensko and Tracy Ball often worked long hours to get the paper out, but as Tracy said it was a team effort.

From The Pride Of The Gold Coast

The Golden Tornado Band of 78-79 achieved many awards for their many superior performances. At district contest they maintained the tradition of straight superiors. Other performances included competing in the Gold Coast Festival of Bands. In this competition they placed among the top in all events. The band also traveled to St. Petersburg to compete in the Florida Show of Bands. This has been recognized throughout the Southeast as hosting Florida's top bands. In competing with twenty-one of Florida's finest bands, Pompano was able to bring home, First in parade, Second in jazz band, Second in symphonic band, Third in field show, and placed First Overall in their division. The band planned other competitions throughout the year, in which they were expected to maintain their superior reputation.

Note For Note

The Tradewinds were the advanced singing group for Pompano Beach High School. During the winter they had two large Christmas concerts. Some of the Tradewinds' outstanding members were: Carl Colaizzi, Marty Suazo, Jeff Gibson, Donna Langfeld; but Tradewinds were excellent because everyone worked together.

They hoped to go to state contest again and go five Superior rating out of five years. The Tradewinds were held together by their director, Mrs. Wittstein and the president, Mike Peasall. A musical was performed by the Tradewinds, which was a new experience for them and was handled very well.

The officers of the Tradewinds such as Pat Snyder, Lisa Colaizzi, Nancy White, and Sharon Hyde, helped each and every member on their tones and voice technique.

I'm a Fermata, Hold Me

"Changing Tides" was a chorus that consisted of all girls. It was second next to "Tradewinds". These girls practiced diligently every day. They performed for many different people in many different places. All the girls put much time and effort into the chorus; yet among the most active were: Patricia Smith, the president; Barb Eckel, vice president; Lisa Braden, secretary; and Cheryl Richenberg, treasurer.

In order to enable "Changing Tides" to increase their funds, they had candy sales, candle sales, and numerous car washes. They participated in the concerts that the choral department gave and were involved in state competitions.

With the outstanding assistance of Mrs. Deborah Wittstein, the "Changing Tides" had an excellent and prosperous year.

Honoring Pompano's Best

The year began with a boom for the 1978-79 National Honor Society of Pompano High. Many of the changes made caused the club to gain new outlooks for the future.

One of the main changes was the rule forcing acceptance of sophomore members into the club. This new rule changed the N.H.S. into a completely different type of club and gave it a whole different form.

One of the club's main activities of the year was the club induction for new junior members. The new members were treated to a picnic at Birch State Park. When it came time for the rule effecting the sophomore members, another special induction was held.

Over all, the N.H.S. appeared as another outstanding club at P.B.H.S. and proved to all that good grades and citizenship pay off.

Young Exchange Members Do Their Part

The Junior Exchange Club was a very active club organization. The club was made up of 30 members, all of whom were very active and spirited. The club participated in various sports events against the Senior Exchange and held several car washes during the year. The club also raised a large amount of money through activities. They raised $400 through the concession stand and donated $100 of this money to the under-priviledged children of Pompano Beach. They also donated $100 for United Cerebral Palsy. The club sponsor was Mr. Ira Kaminsky and Charles Lorenz was the club president.

Special Service

The Junior Exchangettes had a fantastic year. Everybody pricked a finger for our blood drive in February. We sold mums for the Homecoming sweethearts. We were voted the most spirited club during Club Week, and we won a trophy for spirit.

We helped many children who were in need of food and clothing. Of course, the Exchangettes could not have a club without initiation. We invited all the members to Kester Park for a picnic. Afterwards, we were all to meet at the Pompano Fashion square to entertain our guests in the mall to many songs, leap frog, and doing whatever was told to us by our masters. At the end of the year, we held a wonderful banquet with our Exchange Club. The Junior Exchangettes had a very successful year.

French/German Club Says It Differently

The French-German club was very active in the Homecoming Parade. Judy Cannon, the club president, was voted French-German Club Sweetheart; her escort was Eddie Hermann. Barb Hart was voted Club Princess. The club had many successful fund raising projects such as a candy drive, car wash, and a club tee shirt sale. The profits from these money raising events helped the French-German Club reach their goal, which was a trip to Disney World. Miss Heckel, the French-German teacher, was the sponsor of the club.

Siesta Time

The Spanish Club was a very active club. Throughout the year the club worked on various projects, including two main projects which were: painting an emblem on the gym wall and working on Project Seemore (which is where the club is raising money to buy glasses for those that need them and don't have them); these two projects were a success.

Among other activities the Spanish Club did were: held two car washes, went to Vizcaya, ordered shirts, and during Homecoming week had a float and decorated all the halls. The Spanish Club had two money making projects: selling candy and basketball buttons and a dance-a-thon. The money earned was used for their end-of-the year trip; some of the Spanish Club members went to Spain and had a great time. Along with the fun and exciting times, the Spanish Club had a successful year.

Govermental Helpers

Student Senate worked extra hard to bring new ideas to our campus. They sponsored the "Monster Mash", Pompano's first Halloween dance, which turned out to be a great success.

They organized various Homecoming activities during the week, beginning with the clubs decorating the halls Sunday afternoon. We had "Hat Day", "Blue and Gold Day", and "Crazy Day". Many students found they had secret admirers, for the week was also "Secret Admirer Week".

Tradewinds performed for P.B.H.S. on the patio, and Senate personally "Popped the Colonels" by giving away popcorn at lunch. Many students listened to the disc jockey, "Pig", and some of the more outgoing enjoyed "freaking" in the dance contest. Senate spent many hours and much effort constructing their float for the parade, another success. For the first time ever, Pompano's Homecoming Queen was escorted by a King.

Senate's new ideas never end. They created a "Most Spirited Club" award for the most active club during Homecoming Week. This traveling trophy was awarded during the game's half-time. Another first was moving the dance from the Recreation Center to the beautiful Sea Garden Resort.

Senate also had part of Sixth Street renamed "Tornado Trail". In May, with the planning of senate, seniors enjoyed themselves in Disney World for "Grad Night".

They sponsored Project Santa Claus, and thanks to the support of those who brought in canned food they were successful in reaching their goal.

They sent a delegation to the state convention in the spring. Later they attended a national convention, and returned with many exciting, new ideas.

Much of Senate's time was spent planning the Spring Festival and of course, prom.

Senate would like to thank the students, faculty, administration, and especially their sponsor, Mr. Tavitian, for all their help.

We Strive To Serve

The Distributive Education Clubs of America, also known as D.E.C.A., had a very successful year. The students received credits for jobs they had pertaining to their career goals.

Being a marketing and merchandising club, they ran the D.E.C.A. bookstore, where students could purchase various school supplies.

They had numerous luncheons at Harris Imperial House, and they also sponsored a very successful Pot Luck Dinner, held at the Pompano Beach Recreational Center.

A highlight of their year was the skate-a-thon for Muscular Dystrophy.

There was an Officers Training Conference held in Tampa where they developed leadership abilities. Ms. Cooley was very helpful advising the students to obtain their career goals.

D.C.T. was active during the years of 1978-79. Their activities ranged from breakfast at Sambos to district meetings every two weeks where they participated in sports, contests, and group discussions. They also had a district personality contest in which 1st runner-up was Stephanie Roth.

They also held a talent contest, and a big district meeting at which they elected officers to represent our county. Many students that were in D.C.T. enjoyed doing things for their school. The biggest and most helpful thing to everyone was the task that they performed of cleaning up the parking lot. From sweeping up the glass to picking up the Burger King Bags, D.C.T. was a very active club for P.B.H.S.

Drama Club Gets Into Action

Under the leadership of Mr. Layton and their president, Kimberly Petty, the Drama Club's production of Our Town was a smashing success. As some of our students said, "Our talented drama students were terrific", and some of the outstanding people were: Eileen Donovan, who played the part of Emily Webb; Jennifer Cecil, one of the people of the town; Geralyn Theobald, as Rebecca Gibbs; Mike Fay, as George Gibbs; and the stage manager was played by Lenny Gillespie. Drama Club practiced many long hours; when the curtain finally fell they knew their practice had paid off.

Future Rotarians at Work

Interact proved to be an active club with its many activities. Under the leadership of Mr. Tuggle, they did many interesting things.

They held two car washes to build their treasury. As a reward for the members who participated in the car washes, Mr. Tuggle took them fishing on his 56' yacht. Charlie Lorenz had the first bite, a huge branch. Later Wolfgang Dilzer reeled in a seven and a half foot, 65 pound sailfish.

In November, club members took several under-priviledged children to the Shrine Circus in Deerfield.

The club also sponsored a six-year-old Taiwanese girl. They helped the Rotarians with their annual Antique Show.

The members spent much time making flowers to decorate the club's sweetheart Corvette, which was the first place car in the parade.

78-79 club officers were: President — Kathy Burke; Vice-President — Sheila Hale; Secretary — Tina Koch; and Treasurer — Debbie Kriegel.

E—I—E—I—O

The FFA club was off to a good start; first they won first place for their float in the Homecoming parade. Then at the Broward County Youth Fair, they won second prize for their landscape and plant display, third prize for their horticulture display, and second prize for their booth.

The annual FFA barbeque was great, and many enjoyed their "Western style" cooking. They also had a plant sale at the Broward County Youth Fair, which brought in many profits.

Miss Manalo, the sponsor of this club, worked very hard to make this club worthwhile for all the students who joined, and she was very successful in her efforts.

Cry Out for Literary Excellence

This year's Outcry had a new look. With Outcry's new theme, "The Beginning", this select group of literary students assembled one of the best issues of scholastic writing in Pompano High's history. Non Ministrar Sed Ministrere

The Latin Club served our school by keeping the interest in this influential language alive. The organization had a rightly deserved reputation as being one of the most active clubs on campus.

Not only did they keep interest in the language alive, but also the heraldry of the ancient Roman culture that is associated with it.

This was displayed by their Homecoming float, which was famous every year for its example of spirit.

The officers were as follows: Chris Grandy, president; Brain Smith, vice-president; Terry Cecil, treasurer; Addie Atwell, secretary.

Explorers of the Unknown

This was the second year for the Junior Academy of Science Club, but it was by far the best year that they had. President, Jutta Honerlah; and Vice-President, Rick Householder; kept the club active with lots of new ideas for the Broward County Service Fair. Along with annual meetings, they also had some fun producing projects, as well as participating in school activities. They set up displays in the science windows and all over the science hall. They also helped teachers with labs.

1. Standing: Steve Fetheroff, Rick Householder, David Isreals, James Ogden, Mark Robson, Terrance Hallagan. Sitting: Jutta Honerlah, Debbie Rinn. 2. Jutta Honerlah wants to go home. 3. Terry Hallagen threatens Photographer. 4. Tom Kniskern is astonished by what he finds. 5. Jim Odgen and Rubin Smith are caught daydreaming. 6. Rick Householder: "Please get my good side".

A Key to Society's Needs

Key Club was an active club with their many projects, such as a scuba trip to clean up Pompano's Reef, and a migrant party; along with Zone Rallys and tree sales. They were active and spirited with all of the club's help. As a result, they held a tie for the third place in our Homecoming Parade. With the guidance of their leaders and the designing of Lyndel Oposda, it was a success.

The Key Club was able to service Pompano throughout the year. They planned to improve every year as they continued and it was something to look forward to in the upcoming years.

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE SENIOR CLASS OF "79" P.B.H.S.

There's more to the facts of life than the birds and bees.

There is also the job of succeeding at life. And successful living depends on some fundamental ideas.

Like, how to get along with people. How to get your ideas across. How to find out what you want from life. How to determine what talents you have and how to best use them. How to use your mind to build a better world. How to handle money wisely.

Sure, everybody knows it takes money to live. But not everybody knows how to live with money. If you don't, the time to start is now. The place to start is at a bank. Like First Bankers.

We can help you choose an "ideal" savings or checking plan. Or show you the wise way to borrow money when you need it. Or shed light on dozens of handy money ideas that people use every day.

There's more to the facts of life than birds and bees. We want you to know about all of them.

A Letter to My Girls

Though I waited 40 years for God to send you to me, it was worth the wait. It is impossible to put into words the joy you brought into my life.

Now that you finished school and a new part of your life is beginning; it seems the right time to tell you what I learned in life. There is only one very important thing for you to always remember. Never search for riches or fame. They are not real. The only lasting thing is love, love for God, for family, and for that someone special. People need each other; this is real.

So if you are looking for a goal in life, let it be this — spend the rest of your life making someone happy, and you will be happy too. When you are happy so am I, for I live in you. You have always made me proud. "In this world of ordinary people, extraordinary people, I'm so glad there is you."

Love,
Dad

Seniors Do It Right

The day that all seniors waited for was Senior Skip Day.

On January 23, school started as usual, students rushing to make it to first hour after a three day weekend. After arriving at their destinations and having the roll taken, it was announced that all seniors were to report to the small auditorium.

After a brief description of what was happening, they were dismissed from school to attend a 10:00 picnic at Birch State Park.

They arrived at the park to find food and drink, but most of all a "Skip Day" to remember, their last chance to be children before entering into the adult world.
